Kabbalat Shabbat: Four hundred years ago in the mystic town of Safed, Isaac Luria and his followers would walk out into the field as sunset approached on Friday night. They would sing psalms of praise to God and re-enact the romance between God and Israel. Today, when we sing Lecha Dodi, page 23, and the psalms which precede it, we too welcome the Sabbath Bride into our midst as we begin to enjoy the special holy time of Shabbat. Ma'ariv: The formal evening service begins with Barkhu on page 39a. The Ma'ariv service focuses on community and individual prayer. Together we sing the blessings which lead up to the Sh'ma on page 41. We then sing and recite the Sh'ma aloud and as a community. Following the Sh'ma surrounded by our friends, by our holy community, we silently offer up our individual prayers to God in the Sabbath Amidah, page 47.
