Kol Dichfin...Let All Who Are Hungry...

It is customary at Passover time to contribute to a "MAOT CHITTIM" fund. People often use the moment of selling their hametz as an opportunity to make a contribution to such a fund. The literal meaning of these Hebrew words is "wheat money," and it represents the funds collected to provide the basic needs of Jewish families for Passover. This can be done through a donation to the Rabbi's Discretionary Fund, which will act as a conduit to a Maot Chittim fund or equivalent. In the Passover spirit of sharing and caring, we ask you to fulfill this important mitzvah.
